Pike Shooting in Scotland.
The killing of a fish by a sword by a lieutenant of the Royal Engineers receives much publicity. It may not have been hard to do, for pike often move sluggishly, and on fine warm days they have a habit of basking on the surface. In Scotland people shoot pike regularly, the corpses being brought ashore by retriever dogs. But in Scotland they shoot several things that in England we kill in other ways. Foxes, for example—London Chronicle.

A former Norwich man writes to The Bulletin the following account of the activities of another young man, who formerly lived in this city, whom he met recently in Maine:

17 STITCHES IN HEAD.
William Thomas, 70, Fell Out of Bed at His Boarding House.

William Thomas, about 70 years of age, fell out of his bed at the boarding house conducted by Mrs. Ida King on Main street corner of Myra alley early this morning, and cut his head so badly that 17 stitches were required to close the jagged cut. Mrs. King found him in a pool of blood. Policeman Murphy was notified and he in turn notified Captain Toomey at police headquarters, and the captain sent W. T. Drexel to the scene to tend the injured man. The automobile was summoned and removed him to the Backus hospital a few minutes past two o'clock. His condition is considered serious as he lost considerable blood. In falling he struck his forehead on a cupboard. Mr. Thomas is a mason by trade.

HELD ON CHARGE OF ARSON

Arthur Kuperos, 31, Arrested at 7 White Street Friday
Evening and Investigation Continued Until 2:30 This Morning—Pile of Kerosene-soaked Rags Found in North Main Street Bakery, Containing Shirt Like That Worn by the Accused—Denies Accusation.

Following an investigation that began shortly after his arrest at 7 o'clock Friday evening, and was not concluded until 2:30 o'clock this morning, Arthur Kuperos of 7 White street, 31 years of age, white hair, blue eyes, wearing a white shirt, which was the shirt, white with purple stripes in the bosom. There was also a good sized tomato can, also smelling strongly of oil.

The protracted session was somewhat to the fact that none of the Greeks were adept in using the English language and an interpreter had to be used throughout. He was Peter Angelo, the Main street bootblack. Since his discharge, Kuperos has established a rival bakery at 7 White street, and this did not increase the friendship between the two men. Kuperos denied emphatically all knowledge of the affair. He was locked up at 2.30 this morning, but only for a few minutes, for his brother-in-law, P. Kaldas, of 7 Golden street, came forward with bonds of $250, which were accepted by City Clerk Albert J. Bailey. The case will come up in the city court at 9.30. The prisoner was brought in by Sergeant Adams and Officer Delaney, who assisted in the examination.

BOUND OVER UNDER $2,000 BONDS
Ernest Rushlow, 26, Charged With Stealing Jewelry from Home of Dr. W. S. C. Perkins Four Years Ago.

The state police have this week arrested Ernest Rushlow, 26, Clifford Stone, alias Clifford Stone, alias George Waters, who committed a burglary in Norwich, July 8, 1911, at the house of Dr. W. S. C. Perkins of Broad street and stole jewelry to the value of between $2000 and $3000. In the city court here on Friday he was presented before Judge Barnes by State Policeman T. F. Downing and was bound over to the superior court of New London county. The bonds were fixed at $2000 and having no one to furnish the money, he was taken to jail.

Rushlow is 25 years of age and comes from Shelton, Vt. When he was to this city four years ago, he was a quiet and capable young man and did his work for Dr. Perkins well. His employment was terminated when he came, nor whether he went, for one day the young man disappeared and with him went a varied and valuable collection of jewelry that he had collected in the Perkins home. There was no trace left behind by the thief, and the Norwich police had no clues to work on. The identification turned to the state police, giving them a description, and in view of the slender threads that the case offered, the return of the thief on Friday was remarkable. Rushlow had long since disposed of the Perkins' valuables, getting only a small part of its real value.

The state police, when they were informed of the burglary and the escape of Rushlow, who was suspected of having stolen the jewelry, made every effort to secure him. They thought he might fly to Canada and they formed the authorities in many sections of the state. The thief turned to places of the crime and gave a description of the fugitive. Some time ago Rushlow was convicted in Canada for the theft of a money bag and was sent to the penitentiary at Stony Mountain in the province of Manitoba.

The state police were informed of his return to this country and of the time of his release. Superintendent Thomas F. Egan assigned Lieutenant Theodore Dowling to go to Canada and convey Rushlow into this state. It was not necessary to have the prisoner extradited because the provincial authorities in Manitoba had agreed to his immigration commissioners of Canada, who took steps to have him deported. It was as a deported prisoner that he was brought to this city. Rushlow into this state. He was placed over the Canadian line at Rouses' Point in Vermont. The prisoner was brought to this city where he was wanted by the authorities of Vermont and the authorities of Minnesota have a suspicion that he was mixed up in a crime in that state.

CORONER INVESTIGATING PTOMANE POISONING.

Two Stonington Cases Demanded His Attention Friday—Took Samples from Restaurant for Analysis—No Word Concerning Suicide.

Coroner Franklin H. Brown of this city took a hand in the investigation of the ptomaine poisoning in Westerly and that vicinity on Friday following the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Brightman of the Stonington road, these cases being the first in this county, and therefore under his jurisdiction. Among other things, the coroner procured samples of various ingredients that have been used in the pastry at the Gavitt restaurant in Westerly, which apparently has been the focus of all the cases. These will be sent by the coroner to the physiological chemical laboratory at Yale, to be examined for ptomaine by Prof. Frank P. Underhill. The coroner's investigation will supplement that already being carried on by the Rhode Island authorities.

The coroner has received no information regarding the identity of the man who hung himself in the Wauwecus Hill woods. He has sent inquiries to Jersey City, Springfield, and Westerly, which was one of the places the man told George Hurst, who had been in late, the man, it seems, gave a different name everywhere he went. John here, Frank at another place, and still another elsewhere, and it will be hard work to trace him. Some of the tales he told would lead to the belief that he was something of a romantic, even if not paranoiac. The body will probably be buried Monday by Undertaker Gager.

50 CENTS PER HORSEPOWER.

Attorney General Minniman's Opinion Regarding Automobile Registration Fees.

Attorney General George E. Hinman advised State Secretary Charles D. Burnes, regarding fees for the registration of motor vehicles Thursday as follows:

"You ask my opinion as to the fee that should be charged for registration of a motor vehicle which is or is designed to be used for both pleasure and commercial purposes, with special reference to the fee for registration owing to the advance in commercial registration fees embodied in the 1915 amendments to the motor vehicle law. The fee for registration of a commercial vehicle would be larger than the fee for registration as a pleasure vehicle."

Section 1 of Chapter 331 of the Public Acts of 1915, it is provided that "The term 'commercial motor vehicle' shall include all vehicles designed or constructed for the transportation of merchandise or freight which are either propelled or drawn by any power other than muscular, except such as are used in rural areas or on city streets for the transportation of passengers on the payment of individual fares."

"Section 8 of said chapter provides that the secretary shall determine the actual carrying capacity of each commercial motor vehicle, and shall collect fees for registration based on such capacity and for all other motor vehicles on the basis of horsepower, as follows: 'fixes the fee for registration of a motorcycle and for registration of all motor vehicles owned by dealers in motor vehicles or in motorcycles, and for the registration of every other motor vehicle, 50 cents per horsepower.'"

"Therefore, every motor vehicle falling within the above quoted definition of a commercial motor vehicle, which it will be noted, includes all vehicles designed or used solely for the transportation of merchandise or freight, or a motor vehicle designed and used as an omnibus for the transportation of passengers on the payment of individual fares, is subject to the registration fee provided for commercial motor vehicle, and every other motor vehicle (other than a motorcycle) is subject to the fee of 5 cents per horsepower."

Swann, and everyone applauded his choice, which was designed to suit the musical tastes of cosmopolitan and hence. The solos by Arthur Campbell were popular with the people and all the numbers were hailed with acclaim.

last year—namely, $29,000 in 1914 and $265,000 in 1915. This meant the enormous profit of 300 per cent. in excess of their previous year's profit.

In the House of Commons a few night's ago Mr. Philip Snowden said, regarding the shipping profits, that he had received a circular advising him to put his money into ships, and holding out the most alluring prospects of gain, and he mentioned that owners of single steamers were, according to his information, making sums of $25,000 and $35,000 a year. There is no doubt that many shipping firms have piled up wealth to the tune of hundreds of thousands of pounds since the war began, and some indication of the huge profits which the shipping companies are now making was given recently by the chairman of a big line, who told shareholders of the purchase of a certain vessel which is to be employed in the service of the United States Navy, $54,000, and the freight payable on the twelve months' charter amounts to $54,000.
